CHICAGO CUBS GET EVEN

Whitewashed Tenney's Men Yesterday

BY THE SCORE OF 5 TO 0

Boston Couldn't Hit Pfeister, While the Visitors Had No Difficulty With Mr. Dornier of Boston.

Boston, June 20.—The Chicago Cubs got back at Boston yesterday, scoring a shutout, 5 to 0. This was due largely to the inability of Tenney's men to hit Pfeister, only three safe swats being registered off him. Only two Boston men got to second base during the game. Chicago didn't have great difficulty with Dornier.

It was no run up to the fourth inning, when Sheppard doubled to right, Hoffman's sacrifice and Chance's single brought him in. In the next inning Howard's tumble, Evers' sacrifice and Moran's single brought in the second run. A combination of two more singles and a pass netted the visitors two more scores in the seventh inning and their final one came in the ninth on Steinfield's single, an out and a single by Evers.

NEW BLOOD FOR BOSTONS.

Two Holy Cross Players to Join Local Americans.

Boston, June 20.—John Hoey and William Carrigan the left fielder, and catcher, respectively, of the Holy Cross baseball team, will join the Boston Americans in Philadelphia next Friday, and the former will probably get into the game at once. Both men left the Holy Cross team in Providence, after the Brown game was called off, the last game on the Holy Cross schedule, and came to Boston, where all the necessary arrangements were completed.

Hoey is the hardest hitting fielder in the college world today, his average for the past season being .391. For the past three years he has played left field on the college team, and never fell below the .300 mark in batting. Besides being a left-hand batter he can cover much territory and is a perfect thrower.

Carrigan has developed rapidly until today he has few equals as a snappy aggressive back stop. For the past two years he has hit for over .300, his average for the past season being .377. Both men were much sought by Philadelphia, Cleveland and other league teams.

IS SENTENCED.

Twenty Years for Kean, Who Kidnapped Freddie Muth.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20.—John Joseph Kean, the kidnapper of Freddie Muth, was given a hearing yesterday, and held without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

The hearing was held before Magistrate Eisenbroun. The police department intends to railroad the prisoner to the penitentiary, and immediately after the hearing Captain of Detectives Donaghy went before the grand jury with his witnesses and asked for an indictment. District Attorney Bell says he will do everything in his power to facilitate the trial of Kean.

Freddie Muth was brought to the court room by his father, who said that the boy was none the worse for his experience. The abductor, looking haggard and wan, was also in court. The hearing was brief.

The grand jury found a true bill against Kean, and he was given an immediate trial and convicted in less than an hour. Judge Sulzberger sentenced the prisoner to 20 years. From the time of Kean's arrest until he was on his way to the penitentiary to begin sentence less than 24 hours had elapsed.

"There is enough gasoline stored illegally Michigan avenue to build every building along the street," said one of the inspectors.

More than 3,000 gallons of volatile oils are stored by the dealers in tanks located under the streets, sidewalks and alleys in the neighborhood. Supt. Doherty has begun a crusade to remedy this.

REPUBLICANS RECOMMEND

Fair Trial for Local Option Law In Vermont

BETTER ROADS DESIRED

Amendment of Caucus Law; Regulation of Fee System Abuse—Platform Adopted Today Recounts Progress of Two Years.

The platform of the Republican party of Vermont as adopted at Montpelier today is as follows:

The Republicans of Vermont, by their delegates in convention assembled at Montpelier, June 20, 1906, in open convention, do declare:

Praise for President Roosevelt.

First: That we heartily and cordially endorse and commend the splendid administration of President Theodore Roosevelt, and we commend the President as a fearless champion of the welfare of the people. He has, without fear or favor, uncovered and punished those guilty of malfeasance in public service; he has zealously assailed the violators of the federal statutes; he has promoted friendly relations with other nations of the earth and gained for us a front rank in the world's diplomacy; he has encouraged wise and legal legislation; he has shown his determination to continue to promote protection of home industries, commercial expansion, and other national policies that have helped the American people to enjoy prosperity and progress without a parallel in the annals of national development.

Governor and Congressmen Endorsed.

Second: We commend the administration of Gov. Charles J. Bell and renew our expression of hearty appreciation of the highly creditable services in Congress of United States Senators Redfield Proctor and William P. Dillingham and Congressman Kittredge Haskins and David J. Foster.

Civic Progress Made.

Third: We note with satisfaction the political, financial and civic progress made, since the adoption of our last platform, by the legislature of 1904. It provided for a thorough and non-partisan investigation of all our public institutions, and adopted efficient and economical methods of administration that accounts for public service should be itemized; authorized the state auditor to prevent unreasonable disbursements; restricted state institutions to the use of one-twelfth of their appropriations monthly; directed that purchases of supplies be made through advertisement for bids; it provided penalties for the acceptance of a commission on any purchase of supplies; it required financial quarterly statements by the officers of our public institutions; it required county clerks to make statements of all fees received; it regulated child labor; limited municipal indebtedness, and otherwise legislated wisely and well. We pledge ourselves to continue our efforts to safeguard the expenditure of the state's funds in every way that it can be done consistently with a determined effort to liberally care for the weak, the oppressed and unfortunate; and of careful protection of these people is our first duty.

Higher Educational Standards Needed.

Fourth: We congratulate the state that the last session of the legislature took a forward step in behalf of the education of our children by laying the foundation for a permanent common school fund by setting apart $240,000, which is now invested, the income there of forever dedicated to the use of the common schools. We recommend still further advancement in the education of our children; and especially urge the coming legislature to use its best efforts to adopt some means whereby the percentage of illiteracy shall be materially reduced. We recommend that the teachers of the more rural portions of the state, at least, be better qualified and better paid. Let there be a more rigid enforcement of existing laws and a general raising of the standard of education. We advise the instruction of manual labor.

Care of the Wards of the State.

Fifth: We endorse the action of that legislature in doubling the appropriation for the deaf, blind and feeble-minded. We congratulate the investigating committee for having made its first consideration the moral and physical welfare of the inmates of our state institutions, make that consideration paramount. While we urge that economy in expenditure be second only to the good of the wards of the state, we do not concur in the political propaganda which makes dollars and cents its sole object, and has, so far, neither offered nor suggested anything for the welfare of those who, by the laws of the state and of humanity, are objects of our special care.

Reform in Penal Institutions.

Sixth: The searching investigation to which our state institutions have been subjected shows efficient administration of our state affairs. Whatever there was of weakness and error in the management of those institutions has been laid open to the public and remedied, and we know that at the present time there is no hospital for the care of all classes of insane where the inmates are better cared for than at Watbury; that in no state prison is the discipline better than at Windsor; and that in no secondary penal institution do better conditions prevail than at Rutland; while the return received by the state for its convict labor is not equalled, class for class, in any other state.

Evils of the Fee System.

Seventh: We recognize the evils in the fee system of paying public officials, particularly in the administration of the penal laws in the minor courts. We believe it is not prudent to entirely abolish the system, for the reason that, to meet the requirements of all towns and cities in the state, it would necessitate the establishment of a large number of new courts with salaried officers. We urge the attention of the legislature to the detail of these matters that remedy of the evils and improvements in procedure may be brought about. We particularly demand that the law relating to misdemeanors be so changed that the term of imprisonment for misdemeanors shall not be affected by the distance of the committing court from the house of correction. We believe that a law requiring a municipality where a misdemeanor is committed to pay the expenses of prosecution, including the costs of commitment, would, through the force of local public sentiment, largely cure the evils of the fee system.

Caucus Law Reforms.

Eighth: We believe that the purity of the caucus should be fully protected by simple legislative measures, and we recommend such endorsements to the present law as will modify the manner in which the voter may announce his political preference.

The Double Taxation Problem.

Ninth: We deplore both unequal and double taxation as being unjust and in violation of the spirit of the constitutional requirement that each person and corporation shall contribute his proportion towards the expense of government. We recommend that such measures be adopted by the next legislature as will relieve us of these evils.

A Fair Trial for Local Option Law.

Tenth: We rejoice that under the local option law the great majority of the people of Vermont have continued to demonstrate their enduring devotion to the sound principles of temperance and sobriety. This law should not be repealed, but should be given a further trial.

The Need of Better Roads.

Eleventh: We recognize that our highways are primarily for the conduct of the business affairs of the people of the state, and we pledge our adherence to progress in their improvement, in the methods on construction and in the maintenance of state appropriations therefor. We recognize that under the present law some of the funds of the state are wasted in ill-directed temporary repairs and upon portions of highways that are not thoroughfares; we therefore recommend that the legislature provide some means for the better supervision of the expenditure of the fund and the establishment of a system of highways, upon which the same is to be expended, that thereby there may be an increase in the yearly aggregate of permanently improved highways.

Reform in Judicial System.

Twelfth: We recommend that the next legislature give careful attention to the advisability of re-organizing our judiciary system.

Uniform Municipal Accounting.

Thirteenth: We recommend a uniform system of municipal accounting.

Fourteenth: That our penal institutions may be made more reformatory we demand that suitable facilities be afforded for the education of the inmates and every opportunity given them to become and remain better men and women.

Fifteenth: We are in hearty sympathy with the great battle being fought by the Republican party in behalf of the people against the evils of rebates, favoritism and discrimination in interstate commerce. We believe in such state legislation as may be necessary to safeguard our people against similar evils in commerce within the state.

Development of Vermont's Resources.

Sixteenth: We rejoice that steps have already been taken by our state in the important question of forest preservation.

Seventeenth: We believe that the time has come when our people should adopt methodical measures to draw attention to the attractions of our state as a resort, and we recommend legislative action to this end.

State Ticket Commended.

Eighteenth: The Republicans of Vermont have this day nominated for the highest office with the gift of the people a man of marked executive ability and progressiveness in public service as in private enterprise, a believer in the application of thorough business principles and methods to the affairs of our commonwealth, an advocate of broad and statesmanlike policies for our state, and a champion of a greater Vermont. Our entire people endorse the aggressive younger Republicanism of our state, every candidate standing for clean, energetic and efficient public service. With such a leader and such a state ticket, standing for the broadest and most progressive policies, we appeal to the electorate of Vermont.
